

Patriot Industries Announces the Launch of Patriot Magnum™ Stainless Steel Conduit System

Louisa, VA— September 17, 2018 — Patriot Industries is pleased to announce our new Stainless Steel Conduit System, Patriot Magnum™. Patriot Magnum™ is a complete system of Stainless Steel Conduit and Fittings which is available in either 304 or 316 Stainless Steel. “We’ve manufactured Stainless Steel Conduit, Nipples, Elbows, and Couplings in our factory in Louisa Virginia for the last 4 years,” says Tom Click, President & CEO of Patriot Industries. “And now that we’ve increased the size of our offering substantially, we thought it appropriate to give the system the name it deserves...Magnum.”

The Patriot Magnum™ system includes many common components used in conjunction with conduit, such as conduit bodies, reducers, straps, hangers, and strut components. Isabelle Puryear, Inside Sales Director, commented “this is another great example of Patriot’s willingness to grow and expand, to stay true to our focus on satisfying our customer’s needs. We like to say, Go Big!, Go Magnum!”

Patriot Magnum™ is in stock and available to ship immediately.
